

Migration and the making of Britain

Tuesday 4 December, 2018

St James the Less, 4 Moreton Street, Pimlico, London SW1V 2PS

Sessions led by leading academics
Martin Spafford, Migration Museum Project Committee

Gain in-depth knowledge about key events and individuals that helped shape Britain's identity, and learn more about the impact of migration.

- Explore how invasions, conquests, and Britain's relationship with Europe and the wider world has formed the Britain we know today.
- Develop your subject knowledge, and discover the social, cultural, economic, religious and political impact of migration.
- Learn new teaching strategies to draw out key themes and common experiences of migrants over time.
- Hear from experts in the field, and learn how to make this topic relevant and engaging for all.

Speakers

Putting you in touch with up to date subject knowledge

Martin Spafford sits on the Migration Museum Project's education committee, which is increasing knowledge and appreciation of how migration has shaped Britain across the ages. He was formerly the head of History at the George Mitchell School in Leyton, where he taught for 24 years.

Teacher Leader

All of our days are developed and led by practising teachers

This day will be led by Kim Hanley, History teacher at Ripley St Thomas - Church of England Academy. Kim studied medieval history at Lancaster University and has worked with the PTI for several years, delivering CPD days on Medieval England and the Norman Conquest, as well as helping deliver Schools Programme days and Subject Enrichment Residentials. Kim is also a GCSE examiner for AQA.

Workshops

Workshop 1: Emily Miller, Migration Museum, will lead the first workshop. Following an anthropology degree, Emily trained as a citizenship teacher with TeachFirst and then moved on to co-ordinate an international education programme encouraging secondary school pupils into philanthropy.

Workshop 2: Resource share led by Teacher Leader, Kim Hanley

"The CPD day was a combination of fascinating insight and practical classroom techniques and activities."

About The PTI

We know that for every student in every school, every teacher matters.

The PTI is a charity run by teachers, for teachers. We re-engage teachers with their specialist subjects, inspiring them to bring enthusiasm into class and raise the aspirations of their pupils.
