

Using Germanic traditions

to develop spontaneous speaking

Monday 9 July 2018

Venue TBC, central London

Limited early bird places available for £145+VAT

Discover a fresh approach to teaching Germanic culture and develop confident, advanced linguists

- Expand your bank of stimulating resources and update your knowledge of authentic German, Austrian and Swiss customs
- Discuss how to lay the foundations of spontaneous speaking at key stage 3 and how to build upon this
- Understand principles behind training students to manipulate language independently and spontaneously
- Explore transferable methods that are relevant, thought-provoking and enjoyable
- Enliven topics at every key stage with culture and flair

Sessions include:

Lectures:

Festivals and traditions in German speaking countries

Paul Hoegger, University of Cambridge

Teacher-led workshops:

Memorable vocabulary teaching

Conquering spontaneous speaking in the classroom

This day is for you if:

- You would like to gain innovative ideas to increase spontaneous speaking in class that meet new GCSE and A Level requirements
- You want to give students the skills to speak spontaneously about culture, not just drill phrases
- You would like to increase students' passion for German and improve uptake at GCSE and A Level
- You want to gain resources and activities to use in class for this topic and beyond

Prices (subject to VAT at 20%):

£145 + VAT (Limited early bird places available, must be booked by Friday 18 May 2018, T&Cs apply)

£195 + VAT (Schools Programme members)

£295 + VAT (non-members)

£145 + VAT (additional places from the same department)

Image: By Bayreuth2009, via Wikipedia (https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:M%C3%BCnchen,_Sch%C3%BCtzen-Festzelt,_Oktoberfest_2012_\(01\).jpg.jpg)). Licensed by Creative Commons 3.0

THE PRINCE'S TEACHING
INSTITUTE

Inspirational professional development for teachers and school leaders

www.princes-ti.org.uk/events

Speakers

Putting you in touch with up-to-date subject knowledge

Paul Hoegger is teacher and coordinator for German at the Language Centre of the University of Cambridge, and he teaches seminars on German literature at the ICE in Madingley Hall. He is also Bye-Fellow of Fitzwilliam College. Originally from Bern in Switzerland, Paul moved to Germany in his late teens. After a career as a ballet dancer and later as a newsreader for the German World Service he moved to Cambridge to study Modern and Medieval Languages at King's College, Cambridge.

Teacher Leader

All of our days are developed and led by practising teachers

Claudia Marsh is Head of Modern Languages at Cardinal Newman Catholic School. She studied German at university and subsequently took her PGCE in German with French. Claudia is incredibly proud that her department now has the biggest uptake of students choosing to take one or more GCSE in languages at key stage 4 and 5 than any other comprehensive secondary school in the Brighton. Claudia recently passed the NPQSL's National Professional Qualification for Senior Leadership.

Memorable vocabulary teaching

This workshop will discover ways to use the target language successfully in the classroom.

Conquering spontaneous speaking in the classroom

Be inspired to speak German for 80% or more of the lesson. Delegates will share techniques and successes.

“Great ideas, enthusiastic speakers and resources to use in the classroom.”

- Joanne Thompson, The Crypt School | Modern Languages CPD Day participant 2016

About The Prince's Teaching Institute

We know that for every student in every school, every teacher matters.

The PTI is a charity run by teachers, for teachers. We re-engage teachers with their specialist subjects, inspiring them to bring enthusiasm into class and raise the aspirations of their pupils.

www.princes-ti.org.uk