

Spanish traditions for talking: developing spontaneous speaking

Monday 1 April, 2019

St James the Less, 4 Moreton Street, London SW1V 2PS

Sessions led by leading academics

Chris Harris, Honorary Professor in Hispanic Studies

Make confident, spontaneous speakers of your students through new teaching strategies designed to increase target language in the classroom

- Learn the principles behind target-language teaching to enable your students to manipulate the language and speak spontaneously
- Deepen your subject knowledge of Hispanic customs and traditions, beyond the well-known, to engage and equip students for the new GCSE and A Level syllabi
- Broaden your range of teaching strategies to develop student interactional language from day one and create advanced linguists
- Expand your bank of stimulating and transferable resources and learn how to tailor high level materials to any Key Stage

Prices (subject to VAT at 20%)

£195 + VAT (PTI Members)

£295 + VAT (non-members)

£145 + VAT (places from the same department)

For more information, contact:

E: events@ptieducation.org

Ph: 020 3174 1235

This day is for you if:

- You teach Spanish at KS3, KS4 or KS5
- You would like to gain access to high quality and adaptable resources to enrich teaching and learning in the classroom and to ensure challenge at all levels of learning
- You would like to equip students with the skills to speak spontaneously and confidently, reaching nearly 100% target language

Book now at www.ptieducation.org/events

Speakers

Putting you in touch with up to date subject knowledge

Chris Harris was appointed Honorary Professor in Hispanic Studies in 2018. He is a specialist in twentieth and twenty-first century Mexican Studies, an Assistant Editor at the Bulletin of Hispanic Studies (LUP), and an experienced academic leader whose recent contributions include serving as Conference Secretary for the Association of Hispanists of Great Britain and Ireland/AHGBI (2012-2017), and as Head of Department for Modern Languages and Cultures at the University of Liverpool (2012-2016).

Workshops

Workshop 1:
Targeting traditional language
Workshop 2:
Customary talking
Workshop 3:
Mexicanidad

Using the topic of customs and traditions, we will explore how to make the TL the go-to language of use in your classroom. Using authentic texts, pictures, games and scaffolding, these workshops will demonstrate ways to enable students to remain entirely in the TL. The traditions will not only include common customs, but also more unique customs from Mexico, Latin America and the autonomous regions of Spain, that would be suitable for longer research projects or single lessons. The workshops will further demonstrate how to bring these cultural gems into schemes of work and build upon them for language progression.

Teacher Leaders

All of our days are developed and led by practising teachers

This day will be led by Lisa O'Donnell-Mowbray, Head of MFL at St John Fisher Catholic Voluntary Academy and Augustias Estrella, Head of Spanish at Davenant Foundation School.

"A good variety of topics and viewpoints with depth of discussion and interactivity."

- 2018 MFL CPD day participant

Online course coming up...

Embedding literary texts for talking and translation

*Free for PTI Members and £20+VAT for non-members
From 4:30pm Tuesday 5 and 12 March, 2019*

Connect with teachers across the country to share best practice and develop resources to use in the classroom.

Book now via www.ptieducation.org/events

Image Credit: "Calm", Gerry Dincher, via Flickr