

Africa in a global context

Wednesday 4 December 2019

St James the Less, 4 Moreton Street, London SW1V 2PS

Dispel misconceptions and refresh your understanding of Africa and its place in the world

- Overcome the stereotypes to help students grasp the vibrancy and development occurring within the continent, and the role of Africa in future geopolitical decision making
- Discuss contemporary examples of change occurring within the continent and update your case studies around this rapidly changing global region
- Find ways to increase student engagement through IT and enquiry-based learning

"Lovely to receive up to date relevant and highly interesting material - have reinvigorated my sense of enquiry and signposted references I can apply to teaching."

- 2018 Geography CPD delegate

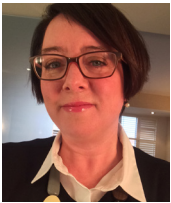

This course is for you if:

- You teach Geography at Key Stage 3, 4 or 5
- You would like to develop detailed case study knowledge applicable at KS3, 4 or 5
- You want to share good practice with like-minded practitioners

Book now at www.ptieducation.org/events

Speakers

Putting you in touch with specialist subject knowledge

Professor Heather Marquette, University of Birmingham

Heather is Professor in Development Politics and Senior Research Fellow (Governance and Conflict) at DFID. She has extensive international experience in research, policy advice and training on the politics of development, governance, corruption, political analysis and aid policy, and a growing interest in serious and organised crime. Her research includes work on Afghanistan, Ghana, India, Kenya, Nigeria, South Africa and Uganda.

Tim Marshall

After 25 years as a foreign correspondent at Sky News, Tim left full time news journalism to concentrate on writing and analysis. He has written six books including Shadowplay: The Overthrow of Slobodan Milosevic, Prisoners of Geography and Divided. This autumn an illustrated version of Prisoners of Geography was published, aimed at 9-13 year olds.

All course materials
and lunch included

Prices (subject to VAT at 20%)
£195 (PTI members)
£295 (non-members)
£145 (second delegate from dept.)

Enquiries:
events@ptieducation.org
020 3174 2403

All our courses are free
for PTI Unlimited schools

Workshops

Led by a practising teacher, ensuring relevance to you and your classroom

Literature in the classroom: Using media sources to develop teaching practice - A discussion about current books, articles and films that can support Geography teaching and strategies for using them effectively.

Studying Africa? - A series of examples and activities, including the use of IT services like Gapminder and enquiry learning to introduce complex case studies.

This day will be led by Becky Windmill, a Head of Geography based in Solihull. She has a passion for teaching and learning in Geography, and has completed an MA in Teaching Studies with a focus on enquiry learning. Becky uses Nigeria as a case study at GCSE, and has taught a thematic KS3 curriculum with Africa as a core region of study.

Also coming up
Online course

Free for PTI members
£20 + VAT for non-members

Climate change: Presenting the evidence in the Science classroom

Make effective links with the Science department on this cross-curricular course.
Tuesday 26 November, 1600-1730